FALL ISSUE

OCTOBER 2016

FALL CONFERENCE at RIVIER UNIVERSITY in Nashua, New Hampshire on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22, 2016

The 97th meeting of the Association will be held on October 22, 2016, in Memorial Hall at Rivier University; 420 S. Main St.; Nashua, New Hampshire (603-888-1311). Rivier was established in 1933 by the Sisters of the Presentation of Mary (SPM) in Hudson, New Hampshire, and it was named after SPM's founder, the Blessed Anne-Marie Rivier, In 1941, the school (then a women's college) moved to its current location in Nashua, where it became coed, admitting its first male undergraduate students in 1991. For many years, Rivier (which became a university in 2012) has specialized in subjects such as education, nursing, criminal justice, psychology and business, and today it has a 68acre campus with 44 buildings.

The program for the fall conference is listed on pages 3-7 of this issue, and it is also posted on our webpage: http://www.newenglandhistorians.org

Vice-President Troy Paddock (Southern Connecticut State University) arranged this fine program. Martin Menke (NEHA's Executive Secretary) made the local arrangements with the assistance of faculty and staff at Rivier University.

We hope that this meeting in Nashua, New Hampshire, will be as well attended and successful as our meeting in Middlebury, Vermont, last spring. We are very grateful for the hospitality shown to us by Rivier University.

The October conference will begin with registration and a continental breakfast at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday morning in Memorial Hall. Panels will begin at 8:30 a.m., and they will all be held in Memorial Hall. NEHA members are invited to bring copies of their own recent publications as well as timely professional literature for display or distribution at the book exhibit at 10:00.

The registration fee payment is required for everyone on the program (panelists, chairs and commentators) and all who attend the conference. Pre-registration by mail prior to October 8th is strongly recommended, but registration at the conference is possible. Please feel free to photocopy the conference registration form on the back page when inviting colleagues or graduate students.

Our luncheon will be held in Memorial Hall at 12:15, but seating is limited. Please reserve your place at lunch when you register by mail. Even if you do not join us, please use this form to pay your 2016 membership dues if you have not already done so. Lunch will be followed by afternoon panels, which will start at 1:45 and end at 3:15.

Our website is located at http://www.newenglandhistorians.org, which nicely echoes the American Historical Association's web address (http://historians.org), since we are the New England regional affiliate. The website is a news hub for information about upcoming conferences, our current call for papers, and the annual prizes. It also contains a growing archive of our past semiannual meetings and newsletters, as well as the organization's bylaws and a list of past presidents. From the website you can download a membership or conference registration form or the latest issue of NEHA News. Announcements of interest from related organizations can be found on our sidebar "bulletin board."

In the future we hope to add the capability to join and renew membership or make a donation online. Our news and announcements have RSS (Really Simple Syndication) feed, so you can either subscribe to new posts by email or add the site to an RSS reader of your choice, such as Google reader. NEHA is also tweeting and welcoming new followers on our Twitter account, @NEHistoryAssoc.

We hope that you feel more connected to the New England Historical Association with these technological developments, and we look forward to hearing about what else might be useful to you.

RESULTS OF NEHA'S APRIL 23, 2016 ELECTION

President

Don Wyatt (Middlebury College)

Don J. Wyatt is John M. McCardell, Jr. Distinguished Professor at Middlebury College, where his disciplinary and teaching specialization is the intellectual history of China. He holds a bachelor's degree (Phi Beta Kappa) from Beloit College in Wisconsin and both master's and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University. He has authored, coauthored, edited, or coedited several books, with the most recent among them being his own The Blacks of Premodern China (University of Pennsylvania Press, 2010). Before his election as NEHA Vice President in 2015, he served as a member of the James P. Hanlan Book Award Committee in 2008-09 and as member and chair of the same in 2009-10. He joined the NEHA Executive Committee in 2013. Being an AHA lifetime member since 1991, he is deeply committed to the advancement of history and has endeavored over the past year to maintain NEHA's established conference standards as well as expand the membership by actively soliciting the participation of more scholars whose research interests reflect the precolonial, non-Western, global, and interdisciplinary dimensions of historical inquiry.

Vice President

Troy Paddock (Southern Connecticut State)

Troy Paddock is Professor of Modern European History and Chairperson at Southern CT State University and co-editor of Environment, Space, Place. He was a member of the Executive Committee previously (2002-04) and was reelected to the Committee in 2015. He would be happy to serve as NEHA Vice President. He teaches courses in Western Civilization, 20th-century Europe, German history, European intellectual history and historiography. He has published articles in German History, Central European History and Rethinking History. His monograph Creating the Russian Peril: Education, the Public Sphere and National Identity in Imperial Germany, 1890-1914 appeared with Camden House in 2010. He was also responsible for NEHA's 50th anniversary conference at Southern Connecticut State University in Fall 2015.

Secretary

Tona Hangen (Worcester State University)

Tona Hangen is Associate Professor at Worcester State University, where she teaches courses in contemporary US history, historical methods, citizenship/immigration, religious history, and medical history. She is the author of Redeeming the Dial: Radio, Religion, and Popular Culture, with published essays in American Quarterly, The Cambridge History of Religions in America, Routledge's Companion Volume to Religion and Popular Culture, and Radio Cultures, among others. Dr. Hangen is currently working on a book on religious dimensions of the battles over school desegregation in the South from the 1950s to the 1970s. Her scholarly interests include media history, religious studies, the pedagogy of history, and digital humanities. Dr. Hangen has served as the NEHA secretary since 2014 and has maintained the NEHA website and social media (Twitter account) since 2011.

Executive Committee

Cheryl C. Boots (Boston University)

Cheryl C. Boots is in her sixteenth year as a Senior Lecturer in the Humanities Division of the College of General Studies at Boston University. She teaches a two-course sequence introducing the humanities to first year students. Her doctorate is in American and New England Studies, so she also teaches American history, literature, and film courses in Metropolitan College at BU. Wielding her sense of humor and experience, she seriously seeks to continue serving NEHA, promoting its excellent collegial atmosphere for academic inquiry. Her prior experience in NEHA includes presenting papers, chairing panels, writing book reviews, selecting book award recipients, and serving on the executive board for the past two years. Her book, Singing for Equality: Hymns and the American Antislavery and Indian Rights Movements, 1640-1855 is now available. (Some people have heard her sing hymns at NEHA presentations.) Her current research is on the role of singing freedom songs during the twentieth-century Southern Civil Rights Movement, about which she presented at the fall NEHA meeting (yes, singing was heard there as well). NEHA offers historians of all backgrounds an opportunity to present their work and obtain helpful comments in a stimulating and supportive atmosphere. It is Dr. Boots' goal to continue this professional service.

Jessica Parr (UNH Manchester)

Jessica Parr received her PhD from the University of New Hampshire at Durham in 2012, and her MS (Archives) and MA (History) from Simmons College in 2005. She is a historian of British Atlantic/Early American history with interests in race, religion, memory studies, and in public history. She is also a Fellow of the Royal Historical Society, a contributing member of The Junto: a Group Blog in Early American History, a co-editor of the H-Atlantic network, and a participant in the More Than a Map(p) project. In addition to her teaching duties at UNH Manchester, she has assisted in the successful development of a public history minor, to be launched this coming fall. Parr has been active in NEHA since 2004, having both presented and served as a chair and/or commentator on several occasions. She is the recipient of a number of fellowships and grants, including a John Hope Franklin Grant from Duke University, and short term grants and fellowships from the Boston Athenaeum, the John Carter Brown Library, Mystic Seaport, the Congregational Library, the American Studies Association, and Gilder-Lehrman. Her first book, Inventing George Whitefield: Race, Religion, and the Making of a Religious Icon was published in March 2015 by the University Press of Mississippi.

Nominating Committee

Jonathan M. Chu (University of Massachusetts, Boston)

Jonathan M. Chu is professor of history at the University of Massachusetts Boston and Editor of The New England Quarterly. Born and raised in Honolulu, he attended the Punahou School and received his BA in American Studies from the University of Pennsylvania, an MA in History from the University of Hawaii, and a PhD in Early American History from the University of Washington. In 1983-84, he was a postgraduate fellow at Yale Law School. The author of Neighbors, Friends, and Madmen: The Puritan Adjustment to Quakerism in Seventeenth-Century Massachusetts and Stumbling Toward the Constitution: the Legal and Economic Impact of the American Revolution, he also writes on subjects ranging from the Chinese Exclusion Act to the assessment of teaching history. The recipient of support from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the American Antiquarian Society, the Filson Historical Society, the Kentucky Historical Society, and the Library Company of Philadelphia, he served as a Fulbright professor to Northeast Normal University, Changchun, PRC. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the College Board and the Council of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts and now serves on the Board of Trustees for the Old North Foundation. As Chief Reader he directs the scoring of the essay portions of nearly half a million Advanced Placement US history examinations.

Alejandra Dubcovsky (Yale University)

Alejandra Dubcovsky is an Assistant Professor at Yale University, where she has been teaching since earning her PhD at UC Berkeley in 2011. Her work focuses on the Early American South, Native American History, and the history of information. Her first book Informed Power: Communication in the Early American South will be published by Harvard Press in March 2016. Her work has appeared in The William and Mary Quarterly, Ethnohistory, and Native South.

A MESSAGE FROM NEHA'S PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues,

I am honored to serve you as NEHA president for this academic year 2016-17, and I am truly gratified to have the exquisite venues of our upcoming fall conference at Rivier University in October and spring conference at Salem State University in April in which to welcome you in this humbling capacity. For generously arranging for us to convene in these excellent settings by hosting, I thank Martin Menke and Eric Jensen. Additionally, for assembling the stimulating programs for both conferences, I thank Troy Paddock of Southern Connecticut State University, who has already and will continue to labor productively in his dual roles for the year as our program chair and current vice president. Needless to say, organizing our meetings with the effectiveness to which we are accustomed is always the product of many individuals working cooperatively together.

Also gratifying for me is having the opportunity of serving as your NEHA president at this fortuitous juncture in our history as an association. Our having so recently marked fifty years of collective life as an institution represents a genuine milestone in itself. Moreover, contrasting the roughly 500 supporting members of NEHA that we have now with those uncertain days of founding in the mid-1960s, we can take well-deserved pride in the consequential ways in which our association has contributed to the wide-ranging efforts to advance history both as a subject of inquiry and as a profession.

However, I am most of all inspired by the sentiment I discern within our membership that NEHA is now poised to aspire to still greater heights. Toward that end, I confess to seeing my main role during my short tenure as president as being that of simply soliciting and incorporating the best of your ideas. I invite you to communicate them to me and, being confident of positive outcomes, I foresee us working harmoniously toward turning these ideas into reality.

Don Wyatt, NEHA President (2016-17) Middlebury College

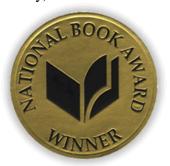

THE NEHA GRADUATE STUDENT PAPER PRIZE

NEHA encourages the participation of graduate students in its conferences. The prize recognizes excellence in scholarship demonstrated by a graduate student at a NEHA conference. It is awarded at the Fall conference to the single best paper presented at either of the two NEHA conferences held during the preceding year.

NEHA members, including panel chairs, commentators and attendees of sessions, may nominate graduate student papers for the annual NEHA Graduate Student Paper Prize. Individuals may only nominate one paper. Entire panels may not be nominated. An individual may not nominate more than one paper per conference. Each nominator must provide a rationale of no more than one page for his/her selection.

Prize nominations must be submitted by May 15, 2017. They may be submitted either to the NEHA President, or to the Award Committee Chair, Paul Lambert (Nichols College). Other members of the committee include Martin Menke (Rivier University), Melanie Gustafson (University of Vermont), and Tona Hangen (Worcester State University).

NEHA BOOK AWARD

NEHA welcomes nominations for the James P. Hanlan Book Award. This prestigious award has been presented annually since 1985 to an author who has produced an outstanding work of history.

Any publisher may nominate one book each year by writing to Martin Menke, Rivier University; 420 South Main Street; Nashua, NH 03060, or email him at mmenke@rivier.edu by June 1, 2017. Monographs on any historical topic, time or place published in 2016, written by an author who lives or works in New England (or has done so in the past two years), are eligible for the annual NEHA Book Award. The nominated book should represent the best historical writing and scholarship in any era or field of history. The award certificate and $300.00 stipend are presented to the winner at the Fall Conference.

The current chair of the NEHA Book Award Committee is Peter Holloran (Worcester State University). Other members of the committee include Kristen Petersen (MCPHS University), Troy Paddock (Southern Connecticut State University), Ian Delahanty (Springfield College), and Bruce Cohen (Worcester State University).

THIS YEAR'S AWARD RECIPIENTS

James P. Hanlan Book Award: The 2016 award goes to Leah Wright Rigueur (Harvard University) for her book The Loneliness of the Black Republican: Pragmatic Politics and the Pursuit of Power (Princeton University Press).

NEHA Graduate Student Paper Prize: The 2016 award goes to Allison Horrocks (University of Connecticut) for her paper "'Not Foreigners, but Friends': The Global Politics of Home Economics in the Twentieth Century."

SPRING 2016 CONFERENCE REPORT

The 96th meeting of the Association was held at Middlebury College in scenic Middlebury, Vermont, on April 23, 2016. It was a scintillating meeting, and it attracted 83 conferees. There were 21 sessions, which focused on a range of subjects. Outside of the conference hall, the weather was sunny and brisk.

At the sumptuous luncheon that followed the morning paper presentations, conferees were formally welcomed to Middlebury College by Jim Ralph, the school's Dean for Faculty Development and Research, and a professor of American history and culture. Another person who spoke at the luncheon was NEHA's outgoing president, Clifford Putney (Bentley University). A Middlebury native and the son of an assistant pastor at the town's First Congregational Church, Putney talked about the link between Congregationalism and Middlebury College.

A further highlight of the conference was the announcement that Allison Horrocks (U-Conn) had won the 2016 Graduate Student Paper Prize. Horrocks' winning paper was titled "'Not Foreigners, but Friends': The Global Politics of Home Economics in the Twentieth Century."

The meeting at Middlebury College was made possible by tremendous efforts on our behalf by Program Chair, Don Wyatt (Middlebury College), Executive Secretary Martin Menke (Rivier University), and the local arrangements committee. Professor Wyatt chaired the local arrangements committee, and he thanked his Middlebury colleagues at lunch, praising people such as Claire Wilkinson (History Department coordinator), Debra Mallott (head waiter), Janice Munson (local caterer), and August Hutchinson (History Senior and guide at the registration desk).

NEWS OF THE PROFESSION

The Congregational Library and Archives (Boston) invites people to attend "History Matters," a series of talks about the relationship between Congregationalism and American history.

Thomas Dodman (Boston College) was appointed as a member of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton for 2016-17.

On July 13, 2016, Carla Hayden became the 14th Librarian of Congress. Dr. Hayden is the first female and the first African-American to head the Library of Congress.

In celebration of its 50th anniversary year, the National Endowment for the Humanities recently announced that it will award $79 million in grants for 290 humanities projects and programs across the U.S.

AUTHORS WANTED

The Historical Journal of Massachusetts (HJM) seeks articles about any aspect of Massachusetts history, culture, politics, and life. HJM is a peer-reviewed journal published twice a year since 1972. We are especially interested in articles on the history of recent immigrant communities. Subscriptions are $12.00 per year, and the acceptance rate is 35%. For submission guidelines see www.wsc.mass.edu/mhj/ or email masshistoryjournal@westfield.ma.edu

The International Journal of Humanities and Social Science (IJHSS), an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed journal, seeks interdisciplinary articles in humanities and the social sciences. If you have questions about the journal, please contact its editor, Nikki Smith (editor@ijhssnet.com).

The International Journal of Liberal Arts and Social Science (IJLASS), a newly established, open access, peer-reviewed journal, seeks all manner of contributions, including articles about history. Send your manuscripts to the editor at editor@ijlass.org, or editor.ijlass@hotmail.com.

The Northeast Popular Culture/American Culture Association (NEPCA) offers its annual Peter C. Rollins Book Award for the best book on any American culture or popular culture topic published in 2016 by an author in New England or New York. Publishers may nominate one book by June 1, 2017. The award certificate and $200 prize will be presented to the winner in October 2017 at the annual NEPCA conference. Contact the NEPCA Executive Secretary, Robert E. Weir, NEPCA, 15 Woods Road, Florence, MA 01062; robweir7@gmail.com

If you would like to write a book review for the NEHA News, please feel free to contact the Association's book review editor, Thomas J. Carty, Springfield College,
Department of History, Springfield, MA
01109; Thomas J Carty@spfldcol.edu. We have books available for review or you may suggest a good new book you have in hand.
Our reviews are 600 words and are due in 60 days.

The New England Quarterly editors invite submissions for their consideration. This historical review of New England life and letters has been published since 1928. The journal's mission remains the same as that set forth by its founders: NEQ is an open forum dedicated to the exploration and discussion of New England civilization and its effects on the nation and the world. The journal is open to any historical method, and there is no restriction on the time period covered. Features also include brief memoranda, recently discovered documents, reconsiderations of historical controversies, periodic essay reviews, and approximately fifteen book reviews per issue.

Manuscripts should be sent to the editor, Linda Smith Rhoades, The NEQ, Meserve Hall, Northeastern University, Boston, MA 02115; l.rhoades@new.edu, or see our website: www.newenglandquarterly.org

All Things New England, an online publication focusing on life in New England, is looking for interesting stories from knowledgeable people pertaining to New England landmarks and historical places.

Average articles range from 800-1200 words and are featured on the publication's homepage. For more information contact Jessica Layne (allthingsnewengland@gmail.com) or consult the publication's website: www.allthingsnewengland.com

NEHA FUND CONTRIBUTIONS

The Association Fund was created many years ago to support some of the Association's activities not related directly to the annual conference, newsletter, mailings or other routine expenses. It has supported the annual NEHA book award and the NEHA Prize, along with subsidizing graduate students presenting a paper, and defraying costs associated with our joint sessions at the AHA. This modest fund is supported by the generosity of our members. Please consider making a donation. Mail your check (payable to NEHA) to our Executive Secretary, Martin Menke (mmenke@rivier.edu), or add a contribution when you pay your annual dues or conference registration payment. Thank you for your generous support. Donations are tax deductible to the extent permitted by law.
