THE SPRING CONFERENCE HAS BEEN CANCELLED
(On Account of the Covoid-19 Virus)

The CONFERENCE Was to Have Been At
EMMANUEL COLLEGE in Boston,
Massachusetts, on SATURDAY, April 18, 2020

The 104th meeting of the Association was to have been held on April 18, 2020, at Emmanuel College; 400 Fenway; Boston, MA 02115 (617-735-9715). Emmanuel College was founded by the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in 1919, and it was the first women’s Catholic college in New England. For eight decades, the school only educated women, but it began to admit male students in 2001. It also expanded beyond its traditional specialty (producing teachers) in the early 2000s, and today it prepares students to excel in a wide variety of fields, especially the natural sciences. Emmanuel College faced an uncertain future in the late 1900s, but it managed to forge a mutually beneficial campus sharing agreement with Merck Pharmaceuticals in 2000, and today the school is thriving.

THE SPRING CONFERENCE AND THE COVOID-19 VIRUS

Emmanuel College will not be able to host the spring conference on account of the Covoid-19 virus. NEHA is grateful to the college for its willingness to host the conference, and we are grateful to the people at Emmanuel who worked hard to make the arrangements for the conference. We are especially grateful to Melanie Murphy, the local arrangements coordinator.

The program (now, alas, moot) for the spring conference is listed on pages 2-6 of this issue, and it is also posted on our webpage: http://www.newenglandhistorians.org

Vice-President Sean Perrone (St. Anselm College) arranged this fine program. Martin Menke (NEHA’s Executive Secretary) made many of the local arrangements.

We deeply regret that the conference will not be held on account of the pandemic. We hope that you, our readers, and your loved ones will emerge from this crisis safely.

ADVANCE NOTICE

NEHA’s fall meeting is scheduled to be held at Bentley University in Waltham, MA, on October 17, 2020. The deadline for submitting paper proposals (one-page abstract and a brief C.V.) is August 15, 2020. To make submissions and/or get information about the program, contact NEHA’s Vice-President apparent, Jessica Parr (Simmons University). Information about the program may also be obtained from Tona Hangen, Worcester State University, thangen@worcester.edu

SLATE OF CANDIDATES FOR NEHA’S APRIL 18, 2020 ELECTIONS

The Nominating Committee, chaired by Melanie Gustafson (University of Vermont), has put together a fine slate of candidates for the spring election. Their names and bios are as follows:

Sean Perrone (Saint Anselm College)
Sean Perrone is professor of history at Saint Anselm College. He holds a B.A. from Rutgers University and a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. His research has focused on fiscal negotiations between the Castilian Crown and the Assembly of the Clergy in the early modern period and on the Spanish consular service in the Early American Republic. He is the author of Charles V and the Castilian Assembly of the Clergy: Negotiations for the Ecclesiastical Subsidy (2008) and several articles. He is finishing his term as Vice-President of NEHA. Previously he served as Treasurer (2015-2019) and on the Nominating Committee (Member 2006-08, Chair 2008-09) and Book Award Committee (Member 2005, Chair 2006), and was the local organizer of the spring 2018 conference at Saint Anselm College.

Jessica Parr (Simmons University)
Jessica Parr is an Assistant Professor at Simmons University (formerly Simmons College) in Boston, who specializes in race and memory studies in the Early Modern Atlantic World, as well as the Digital Humanities. She is Global Team Lead for The Programming Historian, a prize-winning trilingual digital humanities journal, and a contributor to Black Perspectives and The Junto. Her first book, Inventing George Whitefield: Race, Revivalism, and the Making of a Religious Icon, was published by the University Press of Mississippi in 2015, and she has an edited volume of the papers of British physician-abolitionist James Ramsay under contract with the University of Georgia Press. Parr has received fellowships and grants from the Royal Historical Society, Boston Athenaeum, Congregational Library, John Hope Franklin Research Institute of Duke University, Gilder Lehrman Institute, Methodist Archives, North Caroliniana Society, North American Council for British Studies, American Studies Association, Caroliniana Society, and Mystic Seaport. She has been involved with the New England Historical Association since 2004, and previously served as a member of its Executive Committee.

Tona Hangen (Worcester State University)
Tona Hangen is Associate Professor and Department Chair of History and Political Science at Worcester State University, where she teaches courses in contemporary US history, historical methods, citizenship/immigration, religious history, military, and medical history. She has been an active member of NEHA since her graduate studies at Brandeis in the mid-1990s. She served three terms as NEHA secretary (2014-2020) and served on the Executive Board as social media/communications chair running NEHA’s website and Twitter feed since 2011. Her scholarly interests include media history, religious studies, the pedagogy of history, and digital humanities. She is the author of Redeeming the Dial: Radio, Religion, and Popular Culture, with published essays in American Quarterly, The Cambridge History of Religions in America, Routledge’s Companion Volume to Religion and Popular Culture, and Radio Cultures, among others. She is currently working on a book on religious dimensions of the battles over school desegregation in the South from the 1950s to the 1970s.
Ella Howard (Wentworth Institute of Technology)

Ella Howard is Associate Professor of History at Wentworth Institute of Technology in Boston, MA where she teaches U.S. urban and digital history. She is the author of Homeless: Poverty and Place in Urban America, as well as an article in the Journal of Women's History and numerous essays in edited collections, including Reassessing the 1930s South, Oxford Encyclopedia of American Urban History, Cityscapes in History: Creating the Urban Experience, and Making Sense of American Liberalism. She is currently researching a book about the relationship between historic preservation and socioeconomic and racial segregation. She was elected to the NEHA Executive Committee in 2017, after co-organizing a THATCamp sponsored by NEHA and Wentworth and has served as the NEHA Treasurer for the past year.

Kristen A. Petersen (MCPHS University)

Kristen A. Petersen is Associate Professor of History and Social Sciences at MCPHS University. She is coordinator of a University-wide required course, LIB 133 American Culture, Identity, and Public Life. She created the minor in Women’s and Gender Studies. Since 2019, she collaborated with colleagues in the sciences to develop an interdisciplinary project-based learning course about prevention and treatment of malaria. In addition, she has designed and co-taught a course on content-language learning in online courses for international students. In 2016, she was a founding member of the Colleges of the Fenway Teaching and Learning Dialogue Group: “Discussing Race in a Predominantly White Classroom.” Petersen is a specialist in U.S. immigration history. In that capacity, she participated in a number of public history projects, most recently as Historian and Associate Curator for Museum Design of Dreams of Freedom, Boston’s immigrant museum located in Boston, MA.

Martin Menke (Rivier University)

Martin Menke is professor of history and political science at Rivier University in Nashua, New Hampshire. A member of NEHA for almost thirty years, he has served on the book prize committee, the graduate student prize committee, the Executive Committee, as Vice President, President, and most recently as Executive Secretary. His scholarly research focuses on the tension between nationalism and religion in twentieth-century German Catholicism.

Charlotte Gradie (Sacred Heart University)

Charlotte Gradie is chair of the department of History at Sacred Heart University and is a historian of Latin America with interests in the early contact period. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut, Storrs. She teaches courses in colonial and modern Latin America, the history of medicine, and the Western Civilization survey. She is the author of the book, The Tepehuan Revolt of 1616, University of Oklahoma Press, which presents the unexpected four-year uprising as an crucial moment testing both the Spanish institutions of conquest and Jesuit evangelism. She is also author of many journal articles and reviews on the history of Spanish colonization of the northern Mexican frontier and on Jesuits mission. She is a former Mellon Scholar and from 2006 to 2010 she served on the board of the American Society of Ethnohistory as treasurer. She has also served on the editorial board of the journal Ethnohistory.

William Abbott (Fairfield University)

William Abbott is an Associate Professor of History at Fairfield University, where he teaches British and Irish history. He is co-director of Fairfield’s Irish Studies program and secretary of its AAUP chapter. He has published articles in Albion, Church
History, and British Catholic History as well as a book chapter in Law and Authority in Early Modern England. In addition to an article on grade inflation (Change, 2008), he has co-authored three journal articles on university-level pedagogy, in College Teaching, History Teacher, and Issues in Integrative Studies, along with a book chapter in What is College Reading.

Chuck Arning (National Park Service, retired)
Chuck Arning recently retired from the National Park Service after 24 ½ years of service in the Blackstone River Valley, as an interpretive Ranger. He produced, wrote, hosted and co-edited the award winning cable television series, “Along the Blackstone” for the National Park Service. Ranger Arning was awarded the 1997 National Freemen Tilden Award for Excellence in Interpretation from the National Park Service and in 2002 received the Freedom Star Award for his work on the Underground Railroad by the National Underground Railroad Network to Freedom. In 2014 he was awarded the Leadership in Preservation Award by the Blackstone Valley Chamber of Commerce and in 2017 the Bay State Legacy Award by the Massachusetts History Conference. Ranger Arning was the project manager for the widely acclaimed book, Landscape of Industry - An Industrial History of the Blackstone Valley, published by the University Press of New England, 2009. Arning is currently doing some consulting with two regional museums and is working on a research project “Where Are the Children? The Irish Famine Orphans of Grosse Ile.”

Matthew Dunne (Housatonic Community College)
Matthew Dunne is an instructor of History and Political Science at Housatonic Community College in Bridgeport, Connecticut, where he teaches courses on American politics, U.S. foreign policy, and the history of medicine. He earned a Ph.D. in U.S. History from Brown University in 2008, and has also taught at Stonehill College, MCPHS University and Bay Path University. His first book, A Cold War State of Mind: Brainwashing and Postwar American Society, was published in 2013 by the University of Massachusetts Press. He recently contributed a chapter to the Routledge Handbook of Gender, War, and the U.S. Military, and is currently working on a social and cultural history of autism in the United States.

George Dameron (Saint Michael’s College)
George Dameron is currently Professor of History and former President of the New England Historical Association (2006-2007). He served as chair of the Department of History at Saint Michael’s College in Colchester, Vermont, from 2011 to 2017. He is the author of two books on the medieval Florentine Church and several essays and articles on a wide variety of topics, including church property, Purgatory, the history and historiography of medieval Florence, the Black Death, theoretical approaches to the study of the medieval economy, teaching about the papacy in Dante’s Divine Comedy, and magnates in northern Italy. His current work focuses on the political economy of grain in Tuscan cities from c. 1150 to c. 1350, and his article on the politics of grain in medieval Florence, Lucca, and Siena appeared in Speculum (Medieval Academy of America) in the fall of 2017. In the past he has served as a reviewer for the American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) Fellowship program (2015-2017), and is currently President of Gamma of Vermont, Phi Beta Kappa (Saint Michael’s College).
Elections for NEHA officers and committee slots are normally held at the spring meeting. As the spring meeting will not be held, however, we invite people to vote by regular post. For the Officers, vote for no more than one; for the Executive Committee, vote for no more than four; for the Nominating Committee, vote for no more than two. Write-Ins are acceptable. Note: Only NEHA members are entitled to vote, and no one can vote more than once. Ballots should be mailed to: Martin Menke, NEHA Executive Secretary; Rivier University; 420 South Main Street; Nashua, NH 03060.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Dear Colleagues,

We deeply regret that the spring conference at Emmanuel College in Boston has been cancelled on account of the Covid-19 virus. We are very grateful to our Executive Board member Melanie Murphy and her colleagues for making local arrangements (now, alas, superseded by events).

As I complete my term as President of NEHA, I wanted to highlight the volunteer service that makes organizations such as ours continue to survive and thrive in an era when many colleges and universities are experiencing budget cuts. I offer sincere thanks to NEHA’s Executive Committee members and my fellow officers for their continued service to the organization. Thank you to Vice President Sean Perrone for all of the time and effort he invested into putting together the program, and to Cliff Putney for his service in putting together our semi-annual newsletter. Thank you to our Secretary, Tona Hagen, for her work maintaining the website and communicating on social media. I am grateful to our committee members who will continue to read and nominate books and presentations for our annual book and student paper prizes. We are holding an election for officers, Executive Committee members, and Nominating Committee members, and I encourage you to reach out if you are interested in giving your some of your time to our organization in the future.

And finally, I would ask all of you to join me in offering a hearty thanks to our colleague Martin Menke, of Rivier University, for ably serving as NEHA’s Executive Secretary for the past five years. The Executive Secretary is the organizational heart of NEHA, and Martin’s unflagging goodwill and deep institutional knowledge has kept us running smoothly as we enter into a new decade. His term expires this year, and we wish him nothing but the best as he turns his time and attention back to his research.

Stay healthy everyone!

Libby Bischof
NEHA President, 2019-2020
Executive Director, Osher Map Library and Smith Center for Cartographic Education and Professor of History, University of Southern Maine

NEHA NEWS AND THE NEHA WEBSITE

Clifford Putney (Bentley University) is the editor of NEHA News. If you have a submission for the fall 2020 issue of the newsletter, please send it to Cliff (cputney@bentley.edu) by September 1, 2020. Book reviews should be sent to Thomas J. Carty (Springfield College), the book review editor (tcarty@springfield.edu), by September 1, 2020. If you have a book that you want reviewed, mail it to Tom at: Department of Social Sciences; Springfield College; 263 Alden Street; Springfield, MA 01109.

Tona Hangen (Worcester State University) is the Communications Chair for NEHA. Her e-mail address is: thangen@worcester.edu.

Check out our website at http://www.newenglandhistorians.org for the latest news, upcoming conference details and calls for papers, and information about our annual book and paper prizes. The website is also home to a digital archive of our current and past newspaper issues, as well as the organization’s bylaws and list of officers and past presidents.

Through the website you can also access the membership and registration portal, join or renew your annual membership online, or register for an upcoming conference.

The website also contains resources if you’re interested in getting more involved in NEHA by running for office or in another volunteer capacity, or if your institution would like to host a future NEHA conference.

THE NEHA STUDENT PAPER PRIZE

NEHA encourages the participation of students (undergraduate students as well as graduate students) in our conferences. Each year the Student Prize Committee may award two prizes, one prize to a graduate student paper and another prize to an undergraduate student paper. All students are invited to submit their papers as delivered at a NEHA conference to be considered for a prize.

Students may submit NEHA conference papers from spring 2020 or fall 2020. Prizes will be awarded at the spring 2021 conference. Please submit papers to Dominic DeBrincat, Chair of the Student Prize Committee (ddebrincat@missouriwestern.edu). The prize committee also includes Martin Menke (Rivier University), Tona Hangen (Worcester State University), and Paul Lambert (Nichols College).

NEHA BOOK AWARD

NEHA welcomes nominations for the James P. Hanlan Book Award. This prestigious award has been presented annually since 1985 to an author who has produced an outstanding work of history.

Any publisher may nominate one book each year by writing to Martin Menke, Rivier University; 420 South Main Street; Nashua, NH 03060, or email him at mmenke@rivier.edu by June 1, 2020. Monographs on any historical topic, time or place published in 2019, written by an author who lives or works in New England (or has done so in the past two years), are eligible for the annual NEHA Book Award. The nominated book should represent the best historical writing and scholarship in any era or field of history. The award certificate and $300.00 stipend are presented to the winner at the Fall Conference.

The current chair of the NEHA Book Award Committee is Peter Holloran (Worcester State University). Other members of the committee include Kristen Petersen (MCPHS University), Bruce Cohen (Worcester State University), Ian Delahanty (Springfield College), and Marie McDaniel (Southern Connecticut State University).

FALL CONFERENCE REPORT

The 103rd meeting of the Association was held at Roger Williams University in Bristol, RI on October 26, 2019. The 93 conferees who attended the meeting found it to be highly informative. Conferees went to panels in the Global Heritage Hall, and they heard presentations on subjects ranging from early American Baptists to the Me Too Movement.

At the excellent luncheon that followed the morning paper presentations, Laura Mattoon D’Amore (Chair of the Department of History and American Studies at Roger Williams) thanked a number of people at the university for supporting the conference, including Cynthia Scheinberg (Dean of the School of Humanities, Arts and Education), Charlotte Carrington-Farmer (the local arrangements coordinator), Lydia Serpa (Administrative Assistant for Humanities and General Education), and the superior catering staff.
Dr. Carrington-Farmer briefly described the Native American connections of the place where the conference was being held, and she asked people to remember that history. Roger Williams University is part of the Sowams area, which sits on Pokanoket land.

Dr. Libby Bischof (President of NEHA) was the last speaker. She described the fall program (arranged by Sean Perrone of St. Anselm) as very strong, and she thanked all of the participants for making the fall conference such a wonderful event. She also announced that the winner of the 2019 James P. Hanlan Book Award was Seth Blumenthal (Boston University). He won for his book, Children of the Silent Majority: Young Voters and the Rise of the Republican Party, 1968-1980 (University Press of Kansas, 2018). Dr. Blumenthal thanked the Association for the award.

The American Academy in Rome gives an annual prize, the Rome Prize, to 15 scholars (working in ancient, medieval, Renaissance and early modern, or modern Italian studies), as well as to 15 emerging artists (working in architecture, landscape architecture, design, historic preservation and conservation, literature, musical composition, or visual arts). Recipients of the prize get to study at the academy. The application deadline for next year’s prize is November 1.

Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine, an alliance of the Boston Medical Library and the Harvard Medical Library, offers two annual fellowships to support research in the history of medicine. This is the largest academic medical library in the nation with an extensive collection of European medical texts from the 15th to 20th centuries and many other archives. For application information contact Countway Fellowships, Center for the History of Medicine, Francis A. Countway Library, 10 Shattuck Street, Boston, MA 02115.

Historic Deerfield in Deerfield, MA, invites college juniors and seniors to apply for its nine-week, fully-funded Summer Fellowship Program in History and Material Culture. The due date for applications is February 2021.

NEHA FUND CONTRIBUTIONS

The Association Fund was created many years ago to support some of the Association’s activities not related directly to the annual conference, newsletter, mailings or other routine expenses. It has supported the annual NEHA book award and the NEHA Prize, along with subsidizing graduate students presenting a paper, and defraying costs associated with our joint sessions at the AHA.

This modest fund is supported by the generosity of our members. Please consider making a donation. Mail your check (payable to NEHA) to our Executive Secretary, Martin Menke (mmenke@rivier.edu), or add a contribution when you pay your annual dues or conference registration payment. Thank you for your generous support. Donations are tax deductible to the extent permitted by law.

The New England Historical Association is a comprehensive organization for professional and avocational historians in all disciplines and fields. Membership is open to all persons or organizations interested in studying, teaching or writing history. It is not restricted to New England and history or American Studies. The Association is affiliated with the American Historical Association.

Annual dues (calendar year) for regular members are $30.00 or $15.00 for graduate students and adjunct or retired faculty members. Life membership for individuals or organizations is $150. An Association Fund assists in supporting the work of the Association. All dues and contributions to the Association Fund are tax deductible to the extent permitted by law. Please address all correspondence to the Executive Secretary.
NEHA News is the newsletter of the New England Historical Association, published twice a year and mailed to members and subscribers in April and October. Please address all correspondence to the Executive Secretary.
